SHEEP ON SHOW

Community Art Event

What's more fun than a barrel full of monkeys? Sheep on Show! What's that? A new community art event for ages and skill levels, organized by the Borough Improvement League's Transformations Gallery chairs with support from the Metuchen Arts Council.

The afternoon will feature a variety of activities at the Old Franklin Schoolhouse at 491 Middlesex Avenue in Metuchen- there will be music by Celtic songstress Mary Shannon, a collaborative Yarn Bombing project (bring your knitted bits to add!), and central part to all of this will be a PYOS, or Paint Your Own Sheep, activity! Participants will paint their own nearly-life-size wooden sheep. The sheep will gather in the pasture (okay, schoolhouse lawn) while they dry, and then at the end of the day, they are yours to take home to sheep. Er, keep. The cost to PYOS is $20 per sheep, and includes materials at the schoolhouse. Download an idea template and reservation form from our website. Feel free to bring your own materials (bling, stickers, fabric, etc.) and make sure to wear something you don't mind getting paint on!

For questions or more information, contact 862-368-2202 or info@boroughimprovementleague.org. And be on the lookout for special artist-embellished SHEEP around town before the event!

Many thanks to the Metuchen Arts Council for their support of this event.
